As putting coach to several US tour stars, including 2007 Masters champion Zach Johnson, Pat O'Brien is one of today's leading thinkers on putting instruction. He spoke to Dominic Pedler about his technique and the cult SeeMore putter, whose alignment system is integral to his philosophy.

Zach Johnson's exceptional putting on Augusta National's treacherous greens last April was key to keeping Tiger Woods at bay and landing the green jacket. With just 27 putts in the final round - most of them rolling at perfect speed into the middle of the cup - attention soon turned to Johnson's intriguing SeeMore putter and his coach whose philosophy is built around the club's cryptic RifleScope alignment system.
